In a 1967 report entitled "Report of the Commission to plan for the establishment of a proposed state-supported university in the Richmond Metropolitan Area," better known as the Wayne Commission Report, the merging of the Medical College of Virginia and Richmond Professional Institute was proposed and justified. With the support of the Virginia General Assembly and Governor Mills E. Godwin, Jr., this proposal became a reality when these two institutions were brought together in 1968 to form Virginia Commonwealth University. In the fall of 2008, our university celebrated the 40th anniversary of the merger. On the MCV Campus, the celebration was kicked off on October 22 with the dedication of two historic markers which commemorate the history of the St. Philip School of Nursing and the birthplace of cardiac transplantation.

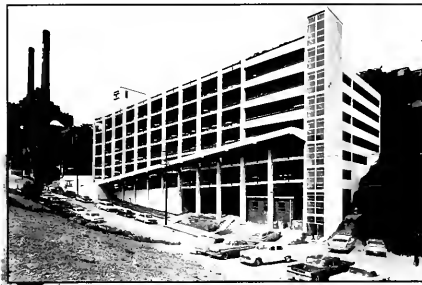

40th Anniversary Celebration

In recognition of the 40th anniversary of VCU, photos of the MCV Campus in the late 1960s were obtained from the library archives. In this Past and Present series, we present a few of these old images and their corresponding view today. While some locations have changed drastically over the past 40 years as old buildings were torn down to make way for the new, many of the beloved buildings we walk by each day continue to serve their function four decades later.

Hunton Hall on the northeast corner of 12th and Marshall was constructed as a dormitory for house staff in 1938. It was taken down in 1977 to make way for Main Hospital.

The heating plant and the Patient Visitor Parking Deck along the 13th street corridor can be seen here in the 1960s. The parking deck was later extended and the heating plant was demolished in 2005 to make way for the Critical Care Hospital. The new 15-level, 232-bed facility was dedicated on October 8, 2008.

MCV Campus: Past and Present

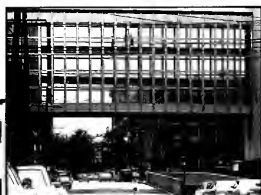

Tennis courts, across 10th street from the MCV campus dormitory complex, used to occupy the location where N Deck and the new School of Nursing building stand today.

Built in 1952 for use as a nursing school dormitory, the Randolph Minor Hall on College Street was torn down in 2003 to make way for the Goodwin Research Laboratory of the Massey Cancer Center.

The Medical Education Building, dedicated and named for Medical College of Virginia President Dr. William Sanger in 1970, was built in three phases. The first phase, built in 1963, is seen here in the old image. The second phase, completed in 1970, provided three additional stories. Finally, the third phase, completed in 1974, extended the 12th street wing toward Broad Street.

The tri-level pedestrian bridge across 12th street between Sanger Hall and A.D. Williams has not changed much over the past 40 years.

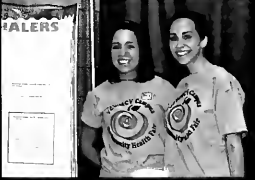

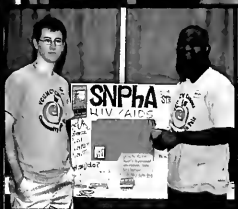

Trees have grown tall in the past four decades at the Sanger Hall courtyard, now known as the Margaret Newman Patterson Memorial Garden. An alleyway ran between the Medical Education Building (now known as Sanger) and the Student Union (now known as the Hunton Student Center) before phase III of Sanger Hall was completed in 1974.

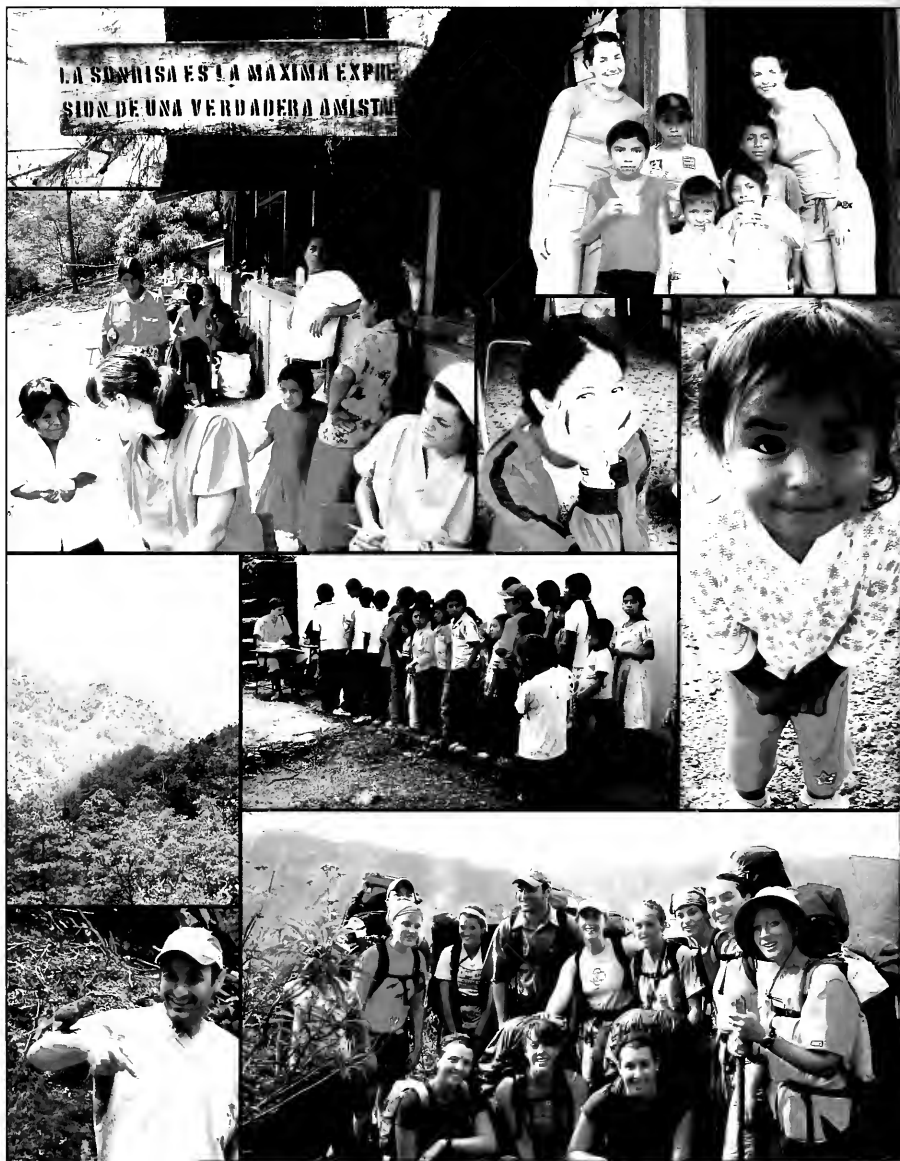

On April 19th 2008, VCU students and community healthcare providers worked together at the Richmond Convention Center for the first annual VCU/MCV Campus Community Health Fair. A completely student-driven initiative, the health fair began as an idea that the Richmond community could benefit from services provided by MCV campus students.

VCU/MCV Campus Community Health Fair

Honduras Outreach Medical Brigada Relief Effort (HOMBRE) has sent first-year medical students to Honduras every year since 2000. Recently, pharmacy students have joined the team to continue to provide medical relief and healthcare education to underserved, rural populations.

Students from schools on the MCV Campus joined the Remote Area Medical Volunteer Corp last July to provide free care at the largest community health fair in Virginia. Thousands of patients waited in line in the early mornings in southwest Virginia to receive free dental and medical care and prescription medications at this annual event.

Election 2008

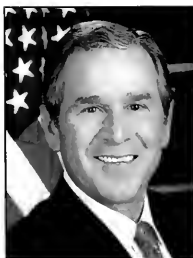

Barack Obama, the 44th president of the United States of America, and the first African-American U.S. president.

Obama beat out former first lady Hillary Clinton for the Democratic nomination and then went on to win the Presidential seat from Republican John McCain. Obama ran with Senator Joe Biden from Delaware as his running mate.

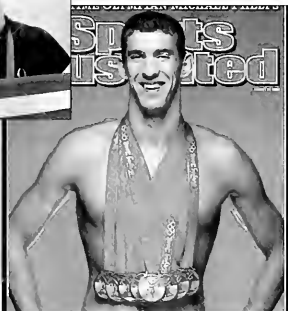

Some of the best election trails may not be from the election trails but from skits on Saturday Night Live. Tina Fey played Sarah Palin, the Republican Vice Presidential candidate, with remarkable resemblance.

The January 20, 2009 inauguration marked the end of President George W. Bush's eight year term. He joins a distinguished list of former U.S. presidents, including his father, George H. W. Bush, who was president from 1989 to 1993.

American swimmer Michael Phelps brought home eight gold medals during the Summer 2008 Olympics hosted in Beijing, China.

Many Americans strive to be more eco-friendly by purchasing electric and hybrid vehicles, such as the Toyota Prius. VCU joined the green effort by purchasing two electric trucks. The compact Smart Cars are also gaining popularity.

Gasoline prices peaked at an average of $4.11 per gallon during the summer, but then plummeted to an average of $1.70 by the end of 2008.

Dear Students,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you to this edition of X-Ray. Virginia Commonwealth University is proud of the more than 4,000 students and residents who are studying for careers in allied health professions, dentistry, medicine, nursing and pharmacy. Our academic schools and the VCU Health System make us one of the most comprehensive academic medical centers in the nation.

The array of nationally and internationally recognized faculty working on new discoveries and their applications in the health sciences is one of the tremendous benefits of your education here. Your faculty are attracting national recognition for excellence in professional and graduate education as well as in the life sciences. They are involved in all aspects of your education in the classroom, in the laboratory and with patients, and they are enhancing life sciences teaching, research and public education throughout the University.

Our reputation for excellence is based on the tremendous accomplishments of both our faculty and of you, our students, and it is a reputation in which we can all take much pride. I am delighted that you chose VCU as the place to pursue your education and wish you much success in your future endeavors.

It is my hope that the strength of your education will carry you forward to a promising future. Best wishes to you on your studies and congratulations to those of you who will be earning your degrees in May.

Sincerely,

EGYPTIAN BUILDING

In East Hill, Richmond, Virginia, the Egyptian Building was erected by the Medical College of Virginia in 1927. It is a fine example of Egyptian architecture and is one of the most beautiful buildings in the city. The building is now used as a classroom and lecture hall.

Letter from graduating class president

Class of 2009,

It seems like yesterday that we just met, braced for whatever may come our way. Our thoughts were inundated with anticipation, excitement, and uncertainty for what lie ahead. Then, four years of dental school seemed an almost intangible task. Yet four years have passed, in the blink of an eye. We look back now in disbelief at how much we have done, in seemingly so little time. Looking forward, we are revisited with the same anticipation, excitement, and uncertainty we once had. A major milestone in our lives has been achieved. As you continue to move forward, full throttle, with your eyes on the road ahead, dont forget to glance back in the rear view mirror now and then and remember just how far youve come.

On a personal note, it has been my honor and privilege to work with all of you for the past four years. I couldnt imagine a more dedicated, motivated, and devoted group of people. A thank you could never be enough for your unyielding kindness, generosity, and support. We have made our own dental school experience a great one. I am sure you are all eager to take the next step, and I wish each of you the VERY BEST, wherever you may go.

In the words of Dr. Seuss

Be sure when you step.
Step with care and great tact
and remember that Lifes
a Great Balancing Act.
Just never forget to be dexterous and deft.
And never mix up your right foot with your left.

And will you succeed?
Yes! You will, indeed!
(98 and $\frac{3}{4}$ percent guaranteed.)

You're off to Great Places!
Today is your day!
Your future is waiting.
So get on your way!

CLASS, YOU'LL MOVE MOUNTAINS! KEEP UP THE GREAT WORK!

Most Sincerely and Respectfully,

Eric Whidden

Portraits

Class of 2009 and other members of the MCV Community,

Looking back on this long journey that we embarked on four years ago, many memories were made and much experience was gained. It is from these times that our lives have been shaped and we will begin our careers this upcoming summer. I speak on behalf of the Class of 2009 and wish to thank everyone that helped mold us into the physicians that we have become. Without our patients and their families we would not have learned true empathy and compassion. Without our residents and attendings we would not have gained the knowledge needed to take care of others. We are in debt and grateful for your help on our journey.

To the other members of the MCV community, the field of medicine is not complete without you. It is through your efforts and hard work that true patient care is achieved. We thank you and wish you all the best in your career paths.

For those still enduring on the path that we all chose, I wish you the best of luck over the next couple of years. These years during medical school are gruesome and difficult but they may prove to be some of the best of your life. Time will pass quickly and before you know it the end of your journey will soon approach.

Finally, to the Class of 2009, congratulations on this significant achievement in your life. I urge you to remember what drew each of us to the field of medicine and follow the desire in your heart to becoming a physician. The memories and lessons from over the past years will help to guide all of us through residency and our career. I wish you all the best of luck and hope that our career paths will cross again in the future.

Dear Senior Class,

Congratulations, seniors! Nursing school is unlike any other major. It takes a certain type of person to not only be a college student, but to learn to be a professional. Being a graduate of VCU School of Nursing means we have begun a journey toward a lifetime of helping others. Once we receive our diplomas we will be charged with educating others about our profession and all that it means to be an RN. Its not just waiting on others at the bedside it takes creativity, organization, and clinical expertise, while expressing compassion. While nursing is a challenging career, VCU's School of Nursing has trained us in the most up-to-date evidence and practice, and prepared us to be leaders in our field. As we embark on our new careers we should be proud to be graduates of Virginia Commonwealth University. Good luck and best wishes we did it!

Sincerely,

Letter from graduating class president

To the Class of 2009,

I remember our class of 130 new faces on our first orientation day; eager and excited and completely unaware of what was about to happen. No matter how prepared we thought we were, I don't believe we could have predicted the individual paths we each would travel to reach our final day of celebration. From the very first day we stood up to announce our intentions upon graduation, we have changed. We are now fundamentally different people because of the friends we have made, the organizations we became involved with, and our personal experiences that we will never forget. We began to learn about pharmacy. We began to learn about ourselves. We began to look at life with fresh eyes.

Change occurred around us as we ourselves were changing. We had the fortune of attending our spring formals at The Jefferson, our class proudly holds the inaugural students for our INOVA campus program, and the Larrick Center came down as Hunton Hall was erected. Let's also not forget the countless Thursday evenings at Tobacco and Sine, all our school functions that encouraged costumes, and our pharmacy picnics complete with tug-of-war. While our daytime lives were consumed in Smith, GBJ and Sanger, we each branched out and found our niche within professional organizations, research, service, leadership, and in trying new things. We have each shown excellence in our own way, and the moments defining our time here will never be forgotten as they have paved the way for those following our footsteps.

While our journey through pharmacy school was different for each of us, the close of this chapter promises a new beginning for us all. In four quick years, our adventures were accompanied by joy and stress, by tears and accomplishments, and with the strength of our peers and loved ones that carried us through the toughest of times. Through all of our experiences at the Medical College of Virginia, we have learned more about who we are and how our professional and personal purpose is unfolding. We have each been hand selected to make a difference in the lives of those closest to us just as equally as in the lives of patients we may never meet.

I thank each of you for the collaboration of experiences that has shaped our times together, and wish each of you the best in all your future endeavors. May we all keep in touch and never forget why we chose pharmacy.

Warmest Regards,

AGD

Academy of General Dentistry

Virginia AGD Student Membership: Stephanie Chambers
Virginia AGD Student Membership: Danielle Hoexter

AGD (Academy of General Dentistry) is a national organization that helps its members build and maintain a successful dental career starting as early as Dental School. From continuing education, advocacy, and networking opportunities, the AGD does everything it can for the General Dentist.

SNDA

Student National Dental Association

President: Amber Weems
Vice President: Edward T. Jordan
Treasurer: Asha Wilson
Secretary: Andreen Fearon

The Student National Dental Association (SNDA) was incorporated in 1972. SNDA is a student chapter of the National Dental Association (NDA). The goals of SNDA include promoting the enrollment of minorities into the dental profession, delivering improved oral healthcare in underserved communities, helping to sustain positive environments for dental students, and to educate students of their social, moral, and ethical obligations to the profession. SNDA strongly promotes the philosophy that healthcare is a right and not a privilege. Their service projects focus on outreach in underserved communities.

SAME

Social Awareness and Multicultural Education

President: Neda Hovaizi
Vice President: Fawzia Bhavnagri
Secretary: Sushmita Bhardwaj
Treasurer: Lina Liu

Social Awareness and Multicultural Education: SAME is a student organization focused on developing social and cultural training within healthcare education, specifically dentistry. Our objective is to disseminate information regarding cultural competency, access to care, and the disparity of service amongst various population groups. We want to highlight the need for culture competency and access to care with respect to race, religion, ethnicity, gender, social class, disabilities, and migrant/refugee status. Other objectives are to instill a sense of community among students and patients from all subsets of population, to provide members with mentorship and support groups for instruction and training, and to maximize the standard of quality of our dental education.

NSRG

National Student Research Group

President - Poonum Bharal
Vice President - Cheyanne Warren
Secretary - Spencer Dixon
Treasurer - Natasha Kapoor

VCU's chapter of the AADR NSRG hopes to foster an environment at the School of Dentistry whereby students interested in enriching their dental education through research are encouraged to do so and are provided with opportunities to get involved locally and nationally. The primary purpose of NSRG is to promote student research and to act as a support network linking other dental schools and their research programs. Secondly, NSRG seeks to generally promote the advancement of dental research and foster awareness of research and training opportunities in academic dentistry. Activities include journal club meetings, guest speakers, workshop series for abstracts, posters and oral presentations, a semester newsletter highlighting research at the school, organizing the research portion of Clinic & Research Day and mentorship for the VCU Health Sciences Pipeline Program.

Mission Statement:

The Student American Dental Hygienists Association cultivates, promotes, and sustains the art and science of dental hygiene, represents and safe guards the common interest of the members of the profession; and contributes toward the improvement of public health.

Purpose Statement:

1. Network with other dental hygiene students and dental hygienists.
2. Attend conferences at a reduced price
3. Receive help with employment opportunities
4. Apply for scholarships and research grants through ADHA's Institute for Oral Health
5. Experience hands on community service situations

Cosmetic Dental Club

President: Sam Waddoups
Vice President: Christian Peck
Vice President: Erik Jansson

The Cosmetic Dental Club is an organization that has really done it this year. Events have included presentations by Dr. Joseph Niantu and also an event given by Patterson Dental. Advanced technology in dentistry and machines such as Cerecs, lasers, intra-oral cameras, and CT scanner were just a few pieces of technology dental students were able to be exposed to. The Cosmetic Dental Club has made an effort to bring extraordinary learning opportunities to the school that will help dental students succeed in the dental school and excel in the transition to produce a cosmetically demanding society. We strive to find activities that will attract those who have a deep interest in dental professionalism and cosmetic excellence.

The purpose of the VCU OSTEOTOMES is to provide dental students who are interested in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery a group of peers who share this same interest. It is an organization which will provide support, collaboration, and information about the field of Oral Surgery and the application process to OMFS residency programs.

VCU OSTEOTOMES mission is to further expose the undergraduate dental student to the specialty of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, promote collaboration and learning among those interested in this field, and provide opportunities for service in the community.

DSD

Delta Sigma Delta

President: Nitika Mittal
Vice President: Bernadette Mabanglo
Treasurer: Emil Christofakis
Historian: Preeti Kansal

Delta Sigma Delta was the first professional dental fraternity and was founded in 1882 at The University of Michigan. We have graduate chapters in many countries along with over 30 undergrad chapters located at dental schools in the US. The worthy goals of the fraternity are to keep high standards of dentistry and advocate a spirit of fraternal cooperation toward scientific, ethical and professional progress. Delta Sigma Delta was established by far-sighted professionals - men with vision - who possessed the desire to render the best dental services in the highest professional manner. It was intended to bring together not only the most talented students of dentistry while in school but by the establishment of the Supreme Chapter, it brought in the outstanding teachers and practitioners. It is an organization based on service and merit.

Jamaica Project

MOM Project

Mission of Mercy

The Virginia Commonwealth University School of Dentistry in conjunction with the Virginia Dental Association and the Virginia Health Care Foundation have formed a partnership in providing dental care for the uninsured and underserved populations of Virginia. The Mission of Mercy Project was initiated because thousands of Virginians are unable to obtain dental care despite their urgent needs. One of the largest factors influencing a persons ability to access dental services in Virginia is geography, specifically, where a person lives. In some rural areas, the ratio may be as low as one dentist to 5000+ individuals.

In July 2000, the Virginia Dental Health Foundation launched the Mission of Mercy (M.O.M.) Project. The Mission of Mercy Projects are conducted in identified, underserved areas of the state where there are not enough dental practitioners to adequately address the oral health needs of the community. Due to the tremendous success of the 2000 project, over thirty-eight additional M.O.M. projects have been hosted, in areas such as the Eastern Shore, Wise County, Northern Virginia, Petersburg, Grundy and Martinsville.

The VCU School of Dentistry plays a vital role in not only giving care to this needy population but also providing staffing support, transportation, supply management and a large number of volunteers, including dental students, dental hygiene students, advanced education students, faculty and staff. To date, more than 29,588 patients have been provided with over $14.4 million worth of free dental care. Each dollar donated to the MOM Project allows us to give $32 in free services to those most in need. Virginias M.O.M. projects have broken records for the largest two and three day dental outreach clinics ever conducted in the United States and serve as models for other states.

MOM Project

Mission of Mercy

Mission of Mercy Projects have been held in airport hangers, high schools, vacant factories and fairgrounds. Field clinics are set up, resembling a M.A.S.H. unit with portable dental chairs, dental units, x-ray machines and sterilization facilities. Patients start lining up the night before to ensure that they have a place in line that guarantees that they will receive treatment. Usually these projects are held in conjunction with a health fair that provides screenings and physical exams for the community. Seeing patients stand in line, when the students arrive at 6:00 a.m., is usually the first glimpse of their patients for the day. It can be overwhelming to realize how great the need for dental treatment is, not only abroad but also in their own state.

Dental School faculty, staff and students, as well as other local health practitioners apply for the opportunity to be part of the project. They are chosen to attend based on their record of teamwork, their ability to follow instructions, and clinical skill. Students are able to perform any treatment that they have already been trained to provide in dental school. Faculty supervise the students and provide instruction. Time moves very quickly with an effort to provide at least one procedure for every person who seeks treatment. It is also an opportunity to demonstrate that dentistry is a caring profession concerned for the patients emotionally as well as professionally.

The patients that are seen are very appreciative but the volunteers have found that they often times receive more than they give.

Supplies for these projects come from donations by major companies as well as individual support. But the greatest return is from the patients who provide us with the enthusiasm and new smiles that truly show that dentistry is more than a skill but also a gift we, as dentists, can share with others.

Latin Club

The MCV Latin Club was established this year in an effort to familiarize medical students with Latin-derived medical terms and to learn about medical practices in ancient Roman and Greek civilization.

Medical Latin Fun Fact:

The Caesarian section was mistakenly named after Julius Caesar, who was said to be delivered in this manner. In actuality, his mother Aurelia survived approximately 45 years after his birth, a feat impossible for a woman who had undergone this surgery in the ancient Roman era.

Ginger - creator of VCU's NSWB - explained the group to new members at the first meeting of the school year. The group provides medical screenings, created a medical recycling program to save and redistribute unused surgical items to programs in need, and held events to raise money for future group projects - like the upcoming nursing trip to Belize in Spring 2009.

Katie and Megan discussed the details of the group's upcoming nursing trip to Belize.

Sallie, an active member, asked questions about the trip and about other NSWB opportunities.

Ann Wyatt got involved in the discussion, as she was the main information contact for NSWB members.

December 1st is World AIDS Day every year. NSWB members went out to distribute information, condoms, and good will among Richmonders.

SACP

Student Chapter of the National Community Pharmacist Association

SACP is the student chapter of NCPA National Community Pharmacists Association. NCPA was founded in 1898 to be an integral part of independent pharmacy and to represent it and its needs. It is highly recognized for its continued involvement in politics and community. NCPA works with other organizations to be a unified voice for pharmacy, to work on issues pharmacists must face, and to provide direction for community pharmacy both in business and practice. This year members of SACP have organized and participated in a variety of events including:

- Living with Diabetes at St. Stephens Episcopal Church - A Multiple Sclerosis walk in Tappahannock, Va
- Smoking Cessation Counseling at the School of Pharmacy Open House and School of Pharmacy Health Fair
- A Poison Prevention Program at Daycares and Preschools around Richmond

SNPhA

Student National Pharmaceutical Association

The Student National Pharmaceutical Association (SNPhA) is an educational and service organization dedicated to the advancement of minority groups in health care in the United States. It aims to encourage the participation of more minority groups in the field of pharmacy and other health professions. It also strives to ameliorate the health concerns faced by the minority population in the United States. It accomplishes this by providing basic free services to the public such as blood pressure and blood glucose screenings and providing education about health issues such as stroke prevention and Diabetes education. It is dedicated to improving the health, educational and social environment of minority groups.

SVSHP

SVSHP advances and supports the professional practice of future pharmacists in hospitals and health systems and serves as their collective voice on issues related to medication use and public health.

X-Ray Yearbook

Editor-in-Chief
Nathan Lewis
Medicine 2009

Thank you for picking up a copy of the 96th yearbook for the MCV Campus, The X-Ray. The Medical College of Virginia has a long and inspiring history, and for nearly a century, the X-Ray has been there to document the life and times of the students at this institution. It is my hope that this book will serve as a keepsake so that years from now we may look back at the beginning of our professional careers. It was a privilege and an honor to bring you the this year's edition of the X-Ray.

I do yearbook because to me it's a way to collect memories and keep them all in one place. What other excuse would I have to capture images of people doing simulations or class presentations? Years down the road we will have these pages to help us remember how we began this new stage in our lives with our friends and colleagues.

Regina Reyes

The tradition of the yearbook allows us to look back at the in-between and remember what we would otherwise forget.

Pharmacy 2012

As a PI, working on the yearbook has helped me learn more about our School of Pharmacy and the student organizations within it. Also, it provided a great creative outlet in my world of biology, chemistry and math-based courses! I look forward to being a part of the X-Ray staff again next year.

I was interested to see all of the events and organizations I was not involved in. It was so fun to document the past year in photographs. However, as you might know, it was a lot more work than I originally thought, but it was worth it.

A friend is someone we turn to when our spirits need a lift.
 A friend is someone we treasure, for true friendship is a gift.
 A friend is someone we laugh with over silly things.
 A friend is someone we're serious with in facing whatever life brings.
 A friend is someone who fills our lives with joy and grace, making the world we live in a better, happier place.

The 4 wheels will continue to roll on together forever and ever! We were friends from the beginning and will be friends until the end.

It's the biggest story of the year.

And everyone's in it.

Our story as the leading yearbook company is all about your talents, unique experiences and individual needs as an adviser or staff member. Thank you for all you do.

With Jostens, you'll get the world's most innovative yearbook creation capabilities, the latest designs and proven selling and distribution ideas. All designed by great people to meet your needs.

Life happens.
